Madison.—Investigation of liquor conditions among University of Wisconsin students during the recent homecoming celebration has been instituted. Dr. S. J. Goodnight, dean of men, stated today that inspectors from Dean Goodnight's office are questioning rooming house operators at length regarding the presence of liquor during homecoming.

The inquiry is the latest action as result of resolutions passed by a men's organization of Milwaukee, after publication of an editorial in the Cardinal, student paper at the university on the liquor situation.

Results of the inquiry probably will be placed before the board of regents which is scheduled to meet here Dec. 2. Results of the inquiry thus far have not been made known.

Police officials said today it is believed a portion of the liquor was brought to Madison to be distributed among university students. The automobile containing the liquor was caught in the Madison district.

Local detectives expressed the opinion that the men discovered last night are part of an organized group belonging to the Madison from "Chicago" Police have been seeking operatives in the group for several weeks, they said.

Sullivan was placed in the Danmore jail in lieu of $500 bond fixed by Judge Hoppmann.

DR. COOK GETS 14 YEARS, DENOUNCED HOTLY BY JUDGE

Fort Worth, Tex.—Shorn of any glory that may accrue because of his spectacular oil promotions, and his colorful adventures to the ice-capped regions of the pole, Dr. Frederick A. Cook passes a cell in the Tarrant county jail today. The oil promotion, the Petroleum Producers' association, was his undoing.

Late yesterday Dr. Cook was sentenced to 14 years and eight months in Leavenworth penitentiary by Judge John M. Kilbuck of Toledo, Ohio, who tried his case. Added to the sentence is a fine of $12,000.

The defendant was charged with using the mails to defraud. If he is not continuing a search for a second man, said to have accompanied Sullivan to Madison in an automobile. CITY TERRORIZED BY MADMAN WITH SUPPLY OF BOMBS

TOLEDO POLICE TRYING TO CATCH MANIAC DESTROYER.

PUBLIC ON EDGE

Loss of Life Expected With Each New Explosion as Damage Grows.

Toledo.—Scornful of efforts of large details of plain clothesmen and police to apprehend him, Toledo's madman was still at large today while residences of the west end fearfully discuss his devastating operations and are wondering where the next deadly missile will fall. Police say the bombs are being planted by a maniac.

The bomber's latest victim was Charles S. Yant, whose home was partially destroyed last night by a bomb, the eighth bombing here within the last sixty days. Yant, his wife and another woman smelled the burning fuse of the bomb and rushed from the house just as the bomb exploded. The Yant home and neighboring houses were damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Meanwhile the city is in a state of anxiety, fearing with each new explosion there may be loss of life. All available police and detectives are working on the case.

While there have been no casualties, the terrorism caused by the uncertainty as to where the next blast might occur has caused police to make every effort to catch the person or persons responsible.

Poor Switzerland! All Through! Blacklisted by Russian Bolsheviks

Madison.—Switzerland has been placed permanently on the black list by the Russian soviet government, in consequence of the acquittal at Lausanne of Maurice Chevalier, who had been charged with the assassination of the soviet envoy Vorovsky. Foreign Minister Tschirch declared in an interview.

Switzerland will pay dearly for the aid she has given to the entire Swiss bourgeoisie was responsible.

Russians would have no official dealings with the country and would not trade with her, preferring to lose money rather than do so. No Russians would visit Switzerland, he said.

New Iberia, La.—Search continued today for additional bodies in the wreckage of the Vida sugar refinery at Lakeview, 10 miles east of here, which was razed late Wednesday by a terrific boiler explosion, killing at least nine persons and injuring 12 others, five probably fatally.

A check up of the refinery's payroll disclosed that three employees were unaccounted for and it was feared they had been buried under the debris of the plant, which was completely wrecked, causing an estimated loss of $100,000.

Nine bodies had been taken from the ruins.

STOCK DEER FOUND DEAD

Fond du Lac—Guy Worthing, 45, widely known stock buyer, was found dead on the Northwestern railroad tracks near the Oakfield depot.

Girl Bus Line Owner in Victory Over Railroads

Madison City, La.—Victorious over railroads, interurban lines and rural chambers of commerce who opposed her, Miss Helen Schultz, 24 year old owner of the Red Ball Bus Lines, authorized by the Iowa railroad commission to operate a line between Des Moines and Iowa City, is planning an extension of her company.

Starting two years ago with $800 saved from her salary as a national clerk, Miss Schultz has increased her line from one second hand bus to 15 motor coaches, covering 2,000 miles daily and capable of carrying hundreds of passengers.

The decision of the railroad commission ended a fight begun by railroads and interurban lines, assisted by farmers organizations who opposed the granting of a certificate to operate to Miss Schultz's company.

Her employees are all men and she performs men's work.

"I'd rather deal with men," she says, "because they are more trustworthy than women men. I have little trouble with them. I play square with them and usually they play fair with me. If they don't, I fire 'em."

WOMEN CANDIDATES ON LABOR TICKET

STRESEMANN PUTS UP DEFENSE; U. S. INTEREST LAUDED

Berlin.—In the course of a vigorous defense of his administration before the reichstag today, Chancellor Stresemann, who last September was elected chairman of the general council of the British Trades Union congress.

A general election will be held soon in England and the labor party is planning to capture the feminine vote by nominating prominent women for parliament. Among the women who have been selected by the party to run are the Countess of Warwick, wealthy aristocrat and parlor socialist; Mrs. Philip Snowden, lecturer on social problems; and Margaret Bondfield, who last September was elected chairman of the general council of the British Trades Union congress.

He also denied reports, published in the German press, that the government had been officially approached by American financiers, and added that he would not be involved in any impending international financial action.

The government is to demand a positive vote of confidence from the reichstag, the outcome of which is yet in doubt.

Dr. Stresemann was liberally applauded by the three government parties, but their combined vote is insufficient to give him a majority vote.

FOUR SHOT WHEN POSSES OPEN FIRE ON EACH OTHER

VOLUNTEER FORCE AND SHERIFF'S BAND IN TRAGIC BLUNDER.

SEEKING ROBBERS

Each Side, Believing Other Bandit Gang, Blazes Away With Bullets.

Terre Haute, Ind.—Four members of a volunteer posse organized to search for supposed bank robbers were shot and seriously wounded by a posse headed by Sheriff Herman Weber of Clay county in a gun fight at Cory, southeast of this city, early today.

The wounded men are Claude Lloyd, Thomas Collins, Joseph Vandever and Paul Willis.

Sheriff Weber received a call about midnight from near Cory to the effect that an automobile party in that vicinity was acting in suspicious manner. With a force of deputies, the sheriff started for the scene. In the meantime, the vicinity of Cory had been aroused and a volunteer force formed.

As the sheriff's party approached the village it was met by the citizens' posse.

Believing them to be bandits, the citizens' posse called on them to halt. Sheriff Weber, thinking he had been ambushed by bandits, opened fire. The volunteer posse returned the fire, but none of the sheriff's party was injured.

Old City of David Is Found

London.—Discovery of traces of the ancient city of David is confirmed in a dispatch from Prof. Robert A. MacAlister, leader of the expedition sent to the Holy Land by the Palestine exploration fund and The Daily Telegraph.

Prof. MacAlister says he has every reason to believe the expedition has discovered the remains of the mysterious "Millo," mentioned in the biblical description of David's fortifications in the Jebusite citadel he captured.

The statement that the king built "round about from Millo," has always puzzled commentators. It has been conjectured that "Millo" was a tower or dam, but it has been agreed that only excavation could reveal its true identity.

FORD WILL LEAD IN DAKOTA, CLAIM

State Central Committee Man Says Manufacturer Has Strong Support.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—With a move afoot to unite the democratic and farmer-labor parties of this state in so far as selection of a presidential candidate is concerned, interest in the election has been intensified.

By the assertion of J. F. Houlihan, of Watertown, member of the democratic state central committee, that Henry Ford, and not William Gibbs McAdoo, would be the standard bearer of the democrats.

Mr. Houlihan was jointly endorsed by the democratic and farmer-labor parties of this state for the post of democratic state chairman and in this was seen evidence of the tendency to cooperate.

If mutually acceptable plans on agricultural policy and transportation can be pulled into their common program, leaders of both democratic and farmer-labor parties agreed unification for the presidential campaign was a possibility.

Although it was announced by leading democrats, Tuesday, that McAdoo had received an overwhelming delegation to the state proposal convention in Pierre, Dec. 4, Mr. Houlihan quoted figures to show that Ford will have 25,000 pledged proposals at the state democratic convention to place who will vote for McAdoo.

DUROC BREEDERS TO HOLD AUCTION

County Consignment Sale to Be Continued in Rock County, Say Members.

Not discouraged by the present trend of prices on swine, members of the Rock County Duroc Breeders' Association voted to hold a county consignment sale during the meeting held in the court house Wednesday evening. A committee composed of Fred Wagoner, L. A. Ruchti and T. P. Shreve was named to inspect the Duroc herds of the county and secure a quality consignment.

All breeders present urged a county sale to "keep business going" and show that breeders were not hopeless.

Walsh Brothers, Beloit, Duroc breeders, will sell on Feb. 22 and Jantz and Jabecek, Evansville, will sell on Feb. 23. A state sale of Durocs is being proposed to be held in Madison.

All breeders having good registered bloods pledged co-operation in the sale, giving service to their herd books free. The most of the gifts in the junior club will be mated for late March and early April litters.

MANY TESTS MADE ON SLO MILLING MACHINES

Madison—Great savings will result to the farmers of Wisconsin and other dairy states as a result of the recent intensive investigations by members of the engineering staff of the Wisconsin college of agriculture into the efficiency of slo filling machines. F. W. Duffee, who directed the tests, figures that Duffee's slo filling machine elevates some 8,000,000 tons of silage into 100,000,000 silos will be saved about one-third of a million dollars as a result of these tests.

Cooperating with the manufacturers of slo filling outfits the Wisconsin engineers had 15 different makes of machines under observation to determine the difference in the efficiency of anti-friction bearings, the power necessary to elevate ensilage to different heights and the power required for the separate operation of cutting and chopping. The investigations went along an unexpected factor entered into the work, mainly the relationship between the speed of the cutter, the tonnage per hour and the amount of power.

As a result of these trials many manufacturers are making changes both of major and minor nature in the design and make-up of their machines to make them operate on a different basis.

When the final reckoning was made the results showed that the difference which exists between the power requirements of different machines was due primarily to design rather than type.

FARMERS HAVE STATE SOIL TEST

Madison—Want your soil surveyed? A farmer member of the Wisconsin legislature fostered a bill which now makes it possible for Dagester farmers to have a thorough analysis made of their soils and obtain advice relative to the proper handling of their acres, according to R. P. Bartholomew, soils department of the Wisconsin college of agriculture.

County wide soil surveys have been completed in 32 counties and plans for the coming year include the completion of the work in several other Dagester counties, those in charge of the work report.

The cost for an individual farmer is $10 for 80 acres and $1 additional for 40 acres. Through another provision of this piece of legislation it is possible for five farmers to club together and secure the service at a more advantageous cost. Under this latter system each pays $2 for his first 80 acres and an additional dollar for every additional 40 acres.

Interest of farmers in the state is gradually being aroused in the matter of soil analysis. He reports that during the past year 25 farmers have availed themselves of this opportunity and grouped together to have a thorough going investigation made of their soils.

FOWLS PLENTIFUL FOR THANKSGIVING

Turkeys and fowls of all sorts are plentiful this year, according to several butchers in Janesville. One dealer said that shipments would arrive soon from out of town and that they will be of the best quality.

Farmers living in the vicinity of Janesville, will bring their poultry to market beginning next week.

One farmer living north of Janesville said that he had 65 turkeys early in the summer but that he has lost all but 28 due to animals and hunters.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor, Gazette:

Is there in the city of Janesville an ordinance similar to that in other cities which makes the obstruction of sidewalks illegal?

For 11 weeks I have made four trips daily down North Bluff street. Always when I reach the intersection of the sidewalk and the street, I have had to gather my clothing close around me and dodge milk cans. There are always three or four milk trucks full of destructive silver and milk that must be avoided unless I wish to ruin my clothing. Usually there are drivers from the milk wagons on the sidewalk, not tending and the only possible chance for passage is to take the road. Considering the fact that "Janesville is to be a Chevrolet town" what a chance taking the road would be to bankrupt life insurance companies.

The last two weeks our problem has been wading through two huge piles of sand which take three quarters of the walk, two doors down from the Janesville Pure Milk Co. I am daily anticipating running into a tractor or a concrete mixer.

But it is a very serious matter aside from the fact that it has its humorous aspect. Two dozen girls come down up that block every day and, well, silk hosiery is expensive. We are usually in a hurry to arrive at work on time and long dresses allow absolutely no possibilities for hurdlings.

The Gazette has reminded others through the Voice of the People and it is very possible that this plea of a pedestrian will remove the difficulty.

EGGS 55 CENTS AND GOING HIGHER

Dealers Scout Reports of Comb—Storage Eggs Plentiful.

Only enough fresh eggs are on the local market to supply to demand, according to a statement made by dealers, and some report actively on a falling price. The price is now 55 to 56c, and will undoubtedly be higher before another month is up, according to some. Most dealers predict they are likely to be worth 65c inside of a few weeks.

Storage eggs are fairly plentiful and sell for 38 to 40c. According to most local dealers, the rumor of a corner on the egg market in Chicago in which 1,250,000 eggs are said to be held is said to be unlikely, as there are no indications here that there is such a corner.

Under the state law, storage eggs may not be sold for fresh, and most dealers are displaying signs on their stock, stating that to be such. However, one case is reported in which a farmer attempted to sell storage eggs to a dealer, and represented them to be fresh.

One of the reasons given for the scarcity of this time is the cold weather which occurred in September and October, and no prediction will be made as to the future supply.

Caroling Isn't New to Evansville

Although not included in a recent list published by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music, the city of Evansville has been carrying out the outdoor Christmas caroling custom for the past 10 years and intends to see again this year. The custom is not new to Evansville, as it is reported in the list recently published, Janesville and several other communities in this section were mentioned as having carried out the custom last year or in 1921 but no mention was made of Evansville apparently because no one from that city had reported the fact to the National Bureau. Young people from that community have gone out every Christmas Eve for many years, singing carols and bringing joy and the Christmas spirit to the aged, sick and all others who care to open their windows and doors to the song of Yuletide cheer.

Drill Program for Tanks Drawn Up by Captain

An interesting program of drills for coming months has been worked out in advance by Capt. P. L. Grimsdew of the 32nd Division Tank Corps of Janesville, and was put into effect this morning.

The drill Monday night was on the nomenclature of the 37 millimeter gun, and dismounting and assembling. Capt. Grimsdew gave a lecture on the development of tanks.

Capt. Grimsdew will be assisted in instruction on the various drills by Lieut. John Thiele, who will have charge of the 37 millimeter instruction, and Lieut. Henry Arnold, machine gun. First Lieut. Aron Ponnas is no longer with the company, having resigned with his removal to Milwaukee.

Instruction on the use of the millimeter gun will continue for several weeks and firing the gun with a sub-caliber will start Dec. 15.

Machine gun instruction starts Jan. 17 and continues through Jan. 23. Lessons in first aid will be given at drills between Dec. 17 and Jan. 7. Very little infantry drill will be given under the program as now arranged. Capt. Grimsdew announced.

There is room in the company for a large number of men, the present strength being under 70.

All Who Hear Pilot Asked to Report Distance to Omaha Station.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Omaha—Testing newly devised one-man radio equipment, designed to permit air mail pilots to cooperate in communication with the ground while winging over the stretches of the trans-continental air mail lanes, Pilot Jack Knight will today go aloft and every 10 minutes repeat a special little speech while ground stations listen in.

Working on a 220 meter wavelength, Knight will cruise between Omaha and North Platte and talk into his apparatus at regular intervals, giving a prepared message each time.

The trial was to have taken place yesterday but defective microphones delayed the test.

Postal authorities have requested all who hear Knight to communicate with the Omaha air mail station to determine the distances at which the messages broadcast from the air can be heard.

Postal Rules for Christmas Mail Announced

Postal regulations in regard to Christmas mail have been issued by the post-office department. The most important rulings are: Postage must be prepaid; all parcels must bear return address; parcels should not be sealed unless they bear the inscription, "Postmaster: May be opened for postal inspection if necessary."

No changes have been made in the ruling as to the class of mail, but it is believed by postal authorities not to be well understood. Letters may not be placed in packages without subjecting the whole to first class rates. Simple inscriptions not of a personal nature, however, may be placed in books sent as gifts, and numbers, may be placed within fourth class packages.

Christmas seals, either those issued by charitable organizations or for greeting purposes, must not be placed in such a position as to interfere with the cancellation of the postage stamps. It is required that in foreign mail the seals be placed on the reverse side of a package or letter, otherwise it will be returned to the sender or sent to the dead letter office. While it is not required that this be done with domestic mail, it is preferred. The permission to use this sort of seal or stamp is allowed only during the Christmas season.

College Y. W. C. A. Has Successful Harvest Festival

Million.—The Y. W. C. A. harvest festival was staged Wednesday night at the Milton college gymnasium, and attended by more than 200 persons.

A harvest queen was elected in an exciting race, which was won at the last moment by Miss Donna Schlagenbaum of Neenah. Every student was allowed to vote, a cent being charged for a single vote. More than $80 was taken in by the student vote.

A short vaudeville program was given, including a piano duet by Miss Arlyne Stockman and Miss Esther Lake; a burlesque of a scene patterned after the style of modern novels, "When the Lights Went Out," a soprano solo by Miss Dorothy Larkin; a one reel movie entitled "Wild Nell," a take-off on the western movie drama; a pigmy act of singing and dancing.

Many other devices used to raise money, among them a "fish pond," a fortune teller, lovers' lane, a tea parlor, hot dog stand, Hawaiian character and dance, a snake-charmer and freaks, and a stand of dummies named after the favorite profs, with balls, as missiles, on sale. All day suckers were sold to all present, including the more daring of the professors.

The Y. W. C. A. realized over $150 on the festival.

Delavan Women

Plan Y. W. Club

First steps toward the formation of a Y. W. C. A. Business and Professional Women's club were taken at a meeting of representative young women in Delavan, Wednesday night. Miss Paula Stuebel, Chicago, representing the national Y. W. C. A. was present and outlined the plans for such an organization.

It was decided to have a banquet on Jan. 14 to which all business and professional women of the community will be invited. The committee in charge of arrangements is as follows: Miss Marvel Hobart, chairman; Miss Elizabeth Fredericks, Alquist, Joyce Chesnek, Florence McCoskey, Rose McCoskey, Virginia Schaefer, Ruby Long, Jeannette Briggs, Mildred Clark, Washburn, Mabel Gray, Ruth Rosenberg, Gertrude Schumacher.

A mother daughter banquet is being planned for January at which time the Y. W. program for younger girls will be presented.

To Seek $200 for Foreign "Y" Work

It has been definitely decided that the Y-Y club here will take up the "50,000 club" for the promotion of foreign Y. W. C. A. work, and the quota for this city $200, is expected to be raised without much trouble.

The plan worked out by "Y" officials for visualizing the progress of the campaign consists of a map of the world about 10 feet across, on which a black band has been traced from the location of Janesville to Japan, China, back to Mexico, South America, Portugal, the Holy Land, India and to Ceylon, the places which take in most of the foreign work.

The band has been divided into four sections, each of which will be assigned to a team, and each team is expected to furnish $50. When the quota is filled, the journey around the world will be completed. Teams will be chosen the first of next week.

A discussion of the subject will also take place when the younger boys meet at 5:30 p. m. Thursday.

Importance of Banks Outlined by National Head

Clarence H. Chaney, New York, national president of the American Institute of Banking, was the principal speaker at a banquet for members of the local institute held at the Chevrolet club Wednesday night.

The national president, who is a banker in standard banking and told what the planners had done in establishing the institute. Describing it as a banker's relation to people of a community, he said that the place is one of great confidence and trust and that the banker must run his bank well, pleasing his patrons and earning a dividend for the stockholders as well, but at the same time privileged to give advice on investments.

In summarizing, he stated that banking is a man-sized job, and takes lifelong training for success. He emphasized that a knowledge of law, economics, accounting and human nature were necessary.

It was impressed that good bankers must be good citizens, and in this the American Institute has an aid. The organization now has chapters in 153 cities, 25 of which have been added since July 25, when Mr. Chaney became president.

E. G. Smith, president of the Beloit Savings bank, spoke on A. I. B. educational work, and Prof. Lloyd E. Lillard of Beloit college, a former instructor in banking, spoke on the same subject. Frank L. Gleason, president of the Janesville chapter, presided.

Eighty were present, 24 of whom were from Beloit. The banquet was followed by a dance.

LOCAL SCHOOL BAND LARGEST IN STATE

Has 271 Members—163 in High School and 108 in Grades.

Janesville now has what is said to be the largest school band in comparison to the size of the city, of any in Wisconsin. The total membership is 271, of which 163 are in the high school organization and the balance in the grade schools. Of this number 235 took part in the homecoming parade Saturday.

The old distinction of Junior and senior bands in the high school have been discontinued. The organization is known only as the high school band.

The number receiving instruction in the grade schools is 108. Of these 30 are from the Jefferson school, 20 from the Grant, 10 from the Washington, three from the Grant, four from the Garfield, four from the Douglas, three from the Webster and two from St. Patrick's. The Grant, Douglas and Webster consist mostly of lower grades. Students from the Garfield, Douglas, Webster and St. Patrick's schools meet for instruction at the Jefferson school.

The high school bands are learning several new selections, and with the special music learned for the homecoming celebration, will be able to play an extensive concert.

FOUR HELD AS "DOPE" TOTERS

Police Launch Drive on Narcotics Addicts Following Theft.

Following a theft of narcotics from the medicine case of Dr. Wayne Mercey, left in his car in front of Mercy hospital, Police launched a drive on alleged "dope" addicts in Janesville Wednesday night and arrested four, as follows: Arthur Collins, 214 Park street, Eugene Riley and Hugh Wagner, all of this city, and Morphine was found in the possession of each police declare. Three of them had hypodermic needles.

All four were arraigned in municipal court Thursday morning before Judge H. L. Maxwell on charges of possessing narcotics without a license. The cases were then adjourned to 2 p. m. for hearing, each being held under $1,500 bail.

One version of the accident reported that the girls were walking on the wrong side of the road, crossed to get out of the way of the district attorney's car and walked into the path of the Klauseh car. This Janesville driver, blinded by auto lights did not see the girls. Sheriff Smith thought Henning was blinded by the car which had passed ahead of them.

The Jaeger girl was either thrown or jumped off the road into the four foot ditch on the recently completed concrete road. The last she remembered was hearing screams. Both girls in the lower part of her left leg were broken near the ankle and one arm was fractured. The girl regained consciousness in the automobile of District Attorney Koenig, who took her to the Watertown hospital. She did not know her leg was broken. Evelyn Yaeck was taken in the same car to her home in Watertown. Her injuries consisted of a cut on the forehead and contusions of the left leg.

The Klauseh girl was taken to her home by Dr. P. E. Stechem of Johnson Creek, and Henning and Koenig went to the Tschirch home to call the Watertown hospital. When they returned the injured had been taken away.

Another in hysterical. Dr. Wm. H. Stechem of Johnson Creek, was called to the Klauseh home to care for Mrs. Klauseh, who became hysterical.

Miss Klauseh, Miss Jaeger and Miss Yaeck were lying together in front. The Schuenke girl was close behind them and 10 feet back of them was Miss Scheberle and Miss Noyes, who escaped injury by jumping into the ditch.

According to witnesses, the Klauseh girl was thrown about 30 feet when struck. The right fender of the Klauseh car was bent and the girls were damaged. They said the Janesville car was traveling at a moderate rate of speed when the accident occurred.

Was Sophomore. According to the principal of the Watertown high school, Miss Klauseh, who was a sophomore, had been waiting to go to school every day for two years and, accustomed to having cars pass her on the highway, apparently was not nervous. Rather, she was a sophomore, Gertrude Schuenke is a sophomore in the school; Gertrude Jaeger is a senior and Loraine Schuenke a freshman.

Miss Scheberle and Miss Schuenke were at school Thursday. Madeline Klauseh was born in Farmington, March 6, 1908, and has lived all her life in the town. Besides her parents she is survived by one brother, Clarence.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at the Moravian church at Watertown, the Rev. Wm. W. Wierzbicki officiating. Burial will be in the Moravian cemetery.

DEAD GIRL WAS NIECE OF JANESVILLE PEOPLE. Miss Madeline Klauseh, killed in an automobile accident near Johnson Creek Wednesday night, was a niece of Mrs. Wm. H. Stechem, 608 South Jackson street, Janesville. Mrs. Baumann was notified of the accident and went to the Klauseh home Thursday morning. According to Mrs. Baumann, the Klauseh girl and Evelyn Yaeck were cousins and companions and constantly together.

The "People's Progressive Party" for Autocracy.

Henry Ford's being supported for the presidency by a group of men calling themselves the People's Progressive Party, probably to differentiate between the La Follette brand of progressive and the more radical citizens. It is well to look at a point or two in the platform. The new or third party claims to be for the people. It wants all finance and banking owned and operated by the government. It would place all railroads and other utilities in the hands of the government.

In the matter of banking it may well be remembered that this is the acme of autocratic power and one of the attributes of tyranny. We have had an example of what may happen in Russia with the ruble and Germany with the mark. Instead of being for the people it is reactionary and goes back to the ancient prerogative of kings and absolute rulers. A republic is always handicapped in public ownership by the very thing that makes for freedom and independence—the fact that a million or more persons know better how to run the business than the men in charge and are not at all afraid to say so. In an autocracy it is different—the government being absolute has the final say and does so regardless of the people. In banking it is also the same. The United States today stands high among the nations of all the world in national finance and money stability. It is due largely to the system of banking and the tremendous individual responsibility placed on the bankers of the nation. Remove that, spread that responsibility over a wide area where buck-passing would be easy and we would have much the same conditions of adventures which are seen in other nations with a worthless currency and standing on the verge of bankruptcy. Henry Ford and his legal tender for work is a theorist of the very sort which went into the discard long years ago with the Greenbacker. Coin Harvey and 16 to 1. They have been disproved as theories by time and some of the advocates of these shelled notions of finance have long since admitted that they were ill advised and filled with error.

Cutting the Federal Laws by 36,000 Pages.

There will be presented to the congress at the coming session a codification of the federal laws which will cut out 36,000 pages from the federal statute books now necessary for lawyers to consult in order to be at all familiar with the law of the United States. There has been no codification of the statute law of the federal government since 1874 and since that time there have been added 26 volumes with 40,000 pages in the books.

Much of this is obsolete, made up of joint resolutions the terms of which have been carried out, or repeals of old laws, or repeals of sections of laws, and in some cases only a line in an old law exists with force. This uncoded mass has been the worry of bench and bar for years. It is believed President Coolidge will ask that this codification be made.

Congress has refused to do this work heretofore, and killed a bill providing for the codification and with it the code itself which had been made under House Resolution 12, last winter. Congress is jealous of its legislative powers and feels perhaps that some particular point might be lost in a codification. By the present codification which is again ready to present to congress there are key books and cross references so that the whole statute series is readily referred to.

It was suggested at the Twilight club in Janesville that some day we might arrive at some such situation whereby we would have to get the statute law down to a small volume in this state. If 40,000 pages can be reduced to 4,000 including all cross references and indices, as well as key books, for the U. S. government, we may have hope that our own ponderous legal tomes may be reduced. It has come to the point where there should be an awakened public opinion as to the piling up of law, tautologous and redundant statutes, inciters of litigation and an obstacle to peace in communities.

Perhaps we had best take a census of all those who do not want to be in the presidential race. It would be easier.

News in the Morning and in the Evening.

There have been many peculiar situations arising from the cable news in the last ten days. We have noted in the morning paper most widely read in Janesville, that what was printed in the morning, or rather the night before since the same edition is on the streets of Chicago before midnight, is denied the next day and the denial confirmed and supported by subsequent events. It is a high tribute to the Associated Press which serves the Janesville Daily Gazette that out of the chaff of sensation, falsehood and masses of propaganda, it has been possible to print any truth at all. One day it was shown that the crown prince was about to go to Germany to start a revolution. The Gazette said he was going to Oels to visit his family and it has so turned out. Then the Bavarian revolt stared us in the face in the morning with all signs and evidences that the Berlin government was about to be overthrown. In the evening the Gazette carried

INTRODUCING THE CHAYOTE

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN.
Washington.—Those eaters who sometimes feel desperate when they think of meals and meals ahead of them, featured by potatoes, beans and kale, may take courage. A new vegetable has made its debut on the American dinner table. It comes sponsored by the Department of Agriculture, and it is said to be an article of food of which the great American home should no longer be deprived.

The vegetable is the chayote. The name is said to be Mexican, and it is officially pronounced chih-ote. The first syllable is like the chi in Chinese, and the accent is on the second syllable. This newcomer is somewhat like the squash, and somewhat like the cucumber, but it has a flavor all its own.

To call it now is perhaps not quite accurate. At the government office of foreign seed and plant introduction they say quizzically, "Is there anything really new?" The chayote is certainly new as a commercial proposition on our markets, but the modern, cultivated varieties trace their ancestry back to the Aztec civilization of Mexico. So the chayote is not an experiment in food, with the American digestion as a laboratory subject. To be sure the Aztecs used it, and, but none of the records ascribes their taking out to eating this particular delicacy.

Besides, the chayote was known to early Central America before the Spanish conquest, and it is today a standard article of food there much as the potato is with us. It is one of the principal vegetables of the island of Madeira, and of Ceylon. It is also grown in Algeria, and recently it has been successfully introduced into Japan. For years it has been raised to some extent by the people of Louisiana. In restricted southern regions, notably around New Orleans and Savannah, and in South Carolina, it has for some time been popular.

The chayote was discovered, for the United States government by some enterprising friends of the department of agriculture who were traveling in Central America. Consultants, missionaries, government field workers, and explorers often send word of interesting foreign plants to the office of foreign seed and plant introduction. Sometimes seed or specimens are sent.

If it seems likely that the plant could be grown in this country, and if it has chances of popularity with existing Americans, the scientists of the office make a careful study of it.

They grow different varieties on the government's experiment farms, and try them out in different sections of the country. They consider the cost of commercial production, and whether the product will stand transportation over great distances. If the plant bears an edible fruit, the questions of how to prepare it for eating and how to serve it are answered. If all goes well, the results are finally gathered together in a little bulletin and the public is informed regarding a new and useful addition to American plant life.

All this has been done in the case of the chayote, and it apparently has good chances for popularity. It can be raised cheaply throughout the southern sections of the country, wherever there is a long growing season. It has even successfully fruited as far north as Washington, D. C., though in such regions the chayote must necessarily be an annual plant, since the roots are killed by heavy frosts.

The chayote climbs on a trellis, which means that comparatively little space is needed for growing it. It can be shipped to any part of the country, and stored for the winter months. In addition, it possesses versatility to an unusual degree.

In some sections of Central America, every part of the chayote vine is utilized. The young shoots are used for food, like asparagus tips. Tough tubers, which are formed underground by the plant, apparently as its reserve food supply after periods unfavorable to growth, are sometimes eaten just as we eat potatoes. The foliage of the vine becomes forage for cattle and poultry. The delicate young leaves are also eaten, like spinach, by human beings.

The vine makes a superior, silver-white straw suitable for baskets and hats. Before the war, this straw was shipped to Paris where it sold at a good price. Now, however, the hard labor required in preparing the straw makes the price prohibitive. The flowers of the chayote vine contain quantities of nectar, and are in consequence popular with bees. The department of agriculture suggests that the vine should be an excellent bee plant in regions where climate is suitable to its growth.

The fruit, of course, is the most obviously useful of the plant's gifts. The fruit of the vine is green or creamy white and is about the size and shape of a large pear. It is a fall and winter vegetable, and may be steamed, fried, made into fritters, salad, or pickle.

Whether American in general will rush to welcome the chayote to its dinner table is a hard question to answer. With all the craving for novelty and variety, most people are conservative. If not reactionaries, when it comes to food. The average adult who finds himself face to face with a strange kind of food makes cautious inquiries before eating. If potatoes were brought in today as something new, they would probably find it difficult to gain entry to the American kitchen. Immigration conditions were much better in earlier days, so far as foods are concerned. The Pilgrims, we are told, were overjoyed to find such new sources of food. But then, the Pilgrim mothers did not go to market and pay out cash earned by the fathers for the new delicacies. And if the family did not at first take to the Indian corn raised in the clearing, they learned to eat it anyway out of the necessities of existence.

Even though times and Americans have changed, the government plant experts are hopeful of a great future for their newest protegee. The scientists who have studied the problems connected with the growing, marketing, and serving of the vegetable realize that it takes time for any novelty to make a staple. While some of the large hotels have served chayote, and while shipments have from time to time appeared in Boston, Chicago, and other northern markets, the quantity production of chayote can scarcely begin to be profitable until the vegetable has made a large number of friends for itself.

"Meanwhile," the government says, "the vegetable is of sufficient merit to warrant a place in every garden where it can be grown successfully. If the surplus from private gardens is placed on the market, and kept constantly before the public, in a few years the chayote will become widely known."

The real news of the "push," and of the arrest of some of the leaders. The next day, it was said, the Kaiser was about to leave Holland to start a revolution and get the throne back on a given date. The Gazette Associated Press dispatches that evening told how silly a yarn that was and so far the Gazette report has been confirmed. Then we had the positive statement that the Stresemann government had repudiated the Versailles treaty in toto and again in the evening it was denied completely and so far has been given full confirmation in that denial. We have other like examples. The reader may draw his own deduction.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.
WHEN A MAN'S A MAN
When a man's a man he doesn't lie, and he will not play the cheat.
And he doesn't look with a scornful eye at the beggar in his coat.
And he doesn't brag of the things he's done, or talk of his lands or gold.
When a man's a man you will find, my son, that he's gentle with the old.

When a man's a man you will find his friend not all of the chosen few.
He never talks of the help he lends or the good deeds he may do.
He never jests with a woman's name, never sneers at the man who falls.
And a dog a pat from his hand may claim if only he wags his tail.

When a man's a man he will never shrink the task that his hand may find.
He is never a big for the long day's work, too busy to be kind.
He never sneers at the faith you hold, never needless hurt he gives—
When a man's a man it is plainly told by the gentleness of his eyes.

They love us a whole lot better when we're dead.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

(Christian Science Monitor.)
So many newspaper these days carry their column daily on some such subject as "Questions and Answers on Health," and so many thousands of readers look to the advice therein as completely authoritative, that when an article on the issue, "Is Vaccination Necessary?" and written from a broad point of view, appears, it is worthy of some comment. The article in question is taken from the Ohio State Journal, and the contributor is Dr. William Brady, well known as a medical writer. (It was also in the Janesville Daily Gazette which receives the Dr. Brady service.) Dr. Brady's view, however, was different, and refreshingly so, from the opinions frequently expressed by medical so-called authorities, in the fact that, while upholding the practice of vaccination, he let it be clearly understood that he was not in favor of compulsory inoculation.

In taking such a stand, Dr. Brady made a statement which for pure logic is unanswerable, but which very few of those in favor of vaccination appear to have the temerity to use. These are his actual words:

"Any citizen should have the right to suit his own taste in his choice of religion, health, and health insurance, provided his preference in such matters does not endanger or encroach upon the rights of his neighbors. If vaccination is as efficacious as we believe it to be, then those of us who do not believe are reasonably well protected, and, therefore, we cannot be endangered by those who are not vaccinated."

This is exactly the point. If vaccination protects those who have undergone it, why do they need to worry about those who have not been vaccinated? If, however, they still do worry, it looks as if the vaccine is not so efficacious as we believe it to be, and if they are afraid that the supposed good obtained by vaccination is likely to be overthrown by the lack of vaccination in others, which weakens considerably their case for the vaccine, they should be vaccinated. It is the privilege of all who desire to subject themselves to this medical superstition, but as soon as it ceases to be a matter of the individual's free choice, and becomes a matter of medical compulsion, the liberty of the individual has been tampered with and the vaccine ceases to be, to that extent, a free-willed citizen.

MOISTURE AN COMFORT IN VICIOUS CIRCLES

It is generally known that a cold damp atmosphere is much more chilling than a hot dry atmosphere. Likewise a hot moist atmosphere is harder to bear than a hot dry climate. The thermometer alone doesn't tell how severe the cold.

The relative humidity, the comparative quantity of water vapor in the air has much to do with physical comfort and efficiency. Relative humidity is expressed in per centum. For instance, air with 70 per cent humidity holds 30 per cent less moisture than it is capable of holding. The higher the temperature of the air the more moisture it is capable of holding.

Outdoor air at a temperature of zero Fahrenheit with a relative humidity of 50 per cent will have a relative humidity of only 5 per cent when heated to 70 degrees F. This is drier than the driest climate known. A dry climate is seldom less than 30 per cent humid. So when we think of a tropical atmosphere, and of pneumonia and the other respiratory infections which are tropical diseases, we must think of the great indoors of the average American home. Too warm, too dry, too bad.

Excessive dryness in the air on our houses, shops and other enclosures in the winter time causes excessive evaporation of the skin and mucous membranes, and this gives rise to the sense of chilliness which prompts us to turn on still more heat, causing still worse dryness, causing for still more heat. So when we think of one of those vicious circles in which a hygienist delights.

Devices for supplying adequate moisture to the heated air of buildings are not fairly priced for large buildings but too expensive for private homes. Such makeshifts as water basins in furnaces, or evaporators, or attachments for radiators are of little or no value for the purpose.

Growing plants in porous pots (not glazed or metal pots) are much more effective, if kept in the room in numerous large tubs, ferns or other plants tend to relieve and prevent "catarrh," keeping the atmosphere fairly moist.

The safest way to regulate the humidity of the indoor climate is to keep the temperature always below 68 degrees Fahrenheit. At 65 to 67 degrees the relative humidity is generally about right.

Catarrh is caused by keeping good and warm. People with a catarrhal tendency usually try to keep good and warm. This, of course, aggravates the catarrhal conditions, and this, in turn, another eddy. Beats all how you drift into these vicious circles whenever you try to discuss hygienics.

Is neuritis round the heart dangerous? (Mrs. F. W.)
Answer.—No more than in other situations.

Cause of Itch.
What is the real cause of itch? Are there several kinds of itch? How does sulphur ointment operate to produce a cure? (Mrs. F. S. B.)

It is widely prevalent in some parts of the south, including your section of Georgia. Horoscope

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1923
Another day dawns with the stars crowding on the activities of men, according to astrology. Neptune and Mercury rule adversely.

There is a sinister sign for real estate dealers this day, the stars having an influence toward deceit and treachery.

It is not a lucky day for affixing the signature to leases or agreements of any sort.

Newspapers will publish revelations of corruption and dishonesty, if the planets are read aright, and there will be much to disturb the mind next month.

Neptune inclines much to secret plots and to intrigues in business and politics, it is declared, and there will be dissension among many who have been friends.

Much excitement is indicated for congress during the coming session is prognosticated, for Washington is subject to a planetary government making for more or less confusion.

Again seismic troubles are threatened for the southeast of Europe and a tidal wave is foretold for the coast of Portugal.

Financial caution is urged by all who would best conserve their interests. The first of the new year may be a time of some uncertainty.

Neptune's influence promises benefits to the farmers, but the sun not too sanguine, for when man proposes to deal, nature will dispose to thwart and certain crops will be poor.

Notwithstanding the appearance of peace and prosperity, Brazil is likely to suffer disasters and even revolution. Mars is on the lower meridian and the Moon and Uranus culminate there.

One of the sinister influences leads to slander and libel, for it is supposed to cause men to say more than they should. Those whose birthdates it is should be extremely careful in all business matters during the coming year. They should avoid all speculation.

The sun driven about this day may be a strong-willed and difficult to manage, but these subjects of Sagittarius usually have energy, coolness of judgment and the power to succeed. Girls probably will be fond of domestic and social life.

JAPAN DEPLORES ALIEN LAND EDICT

Press Comment Reveals Regret at Decision of Supreme Court.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Tokio — Comment on the decision of the United States supreme court sustaining the alien land laws of California and Washington is contained in yesterday's editions of some of the leading Japanese newspapers.

Regret is expressed at what one newspaper terms "technical" discrimination which is inconsistent with the humanity, justice and benevolence to which the American government and people traditionally are pledged.

Another daily states "If the agitators' final object is not to drive out all Japanese from America, the anti-alien land laws should be modified."

The Kokumin advises the government to redouble its efforts to settle the immigration question because, the newspaper asserts, "Japanese friendship will never be permanently cemented until the spirit of discrimination has been eliminated."

Gurgling "Films" Lead to Federal Probe of Hollywood Rum Trade

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Los Angeles — Gurgling noises emanating from a packing case, ostensibly containing only silent film dramas, which led to the arrest yesterday of Joseph W. Eagle, senior vice president of the Metro Pictures corporation, today found their echo in a federal investigation of asserted wholesale attempts to ship liquor from New York to Hollywood in preparation for Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. Federal authorities declared that the arrival of "a big box" from New York "had been anticipated in certain Hollywood circles, and indicated that other 'big boxes' might be seized soon."
